RESOLUTIONS

developed to provide the adequacy and granularity of data required for a holistic national planning; mindful of the fact that CRVS play a pivotal role especially in between census rounds; and acknowledging the diverse set of challenges ranging from decreasing participation rates to increasing data collection costs faced by its Members in conducting the population and housing censuses in the 2020 round and the innovative solutions developed and implemented by the international stakeholders for the countries with difficulties in conducting full traditional population and housing censuses, the OIC-StatCom:

- a) congratulates Palestine for having successfully conducted its third Population, Housing, and Establishments Census in light of the exceptional situations due to the occupation as well as the first ever Census of the Palestinian Refugees in the Palestinian Refugee Camps and Gatherings in Lebanon, and supports the sharing of the know-how and best practices accumulated by PCBS with all its Members;
- b) strongly stresses the allocation of adequate level of resources for the planning, development, implementation, and maintenance of CRVS systems and modernisation of paper based and manual ones into technology-driven CRVS systems by the OIC Member Countries to reduce the burden on NSOs overwhelmed with requests for provisional demographic data obtained from population censuses;
- c) calls its Members to advocate having well-established coordination mechanisms for the efficient inter-institutional data sharing towards building effective CRVS systems; and
- d) requests the Secretariat to collaborate with relevant international agencies to organise statistical activities on raising awareness about the electronic data collection technologies for improving the cost, quality, and efficiency of the census conduct; alternative methods for the augmenting the broader national census work and production of geo-referenced census data; hybrid census taking; and operating CRVS systems in line with the Principles and Recommendations for a Vital Statistics System – Revision 3, and the Revised Handbook on CRVS Systems.

RESOLUTIONS

4. Having considered with great interest the presentations under session “Enhancing the Production, Dissemination, and Use of Migration Statistics” by IOM and UNHCR focusing on the global initiatives on the production of migration and refugee statistics, and by Indonesia, Maldives, Sudan, and Turkey informing their current country experiences concerning their statistical systems on measuring migratory flows, and cognisant of the fact that the policies on migrants and refugees require high quality data in shaping the relevant decisions that are vital for not only the national governments and international organisations but also the migrants and refugees, the OIC-StatCom:

- a) recognizes that the bulk of migratory flows are among developing countries and lack of statistical capacities aggravate the data paucity on international migration and asylum statistics;
- b) underlines the need for a global programme in line with the Global Compact for Safe, Orderly and Regular Migration and Global Compact on Refugees to improve the NSSs for the collection, collation, processing, and dissemination of migration-related data to increase the number of reporting countries and better contribute to the decision-making processes on migrants and refugees; requests the Secretariat to further seek possible avenues for cooperation with relevant regional and international stakeholders to contribute to the efforts of its Members in improving their NSSs to effectively measure and report the migratory flows; calls upon the Secretariat to organize a Workshop on Migration and Asylum Statistics for OIC Member Countries in collaboration with the relevant regional and international organisations including IOM, UNHCR, and UNSD;
- c) encourages its Members with relevant capacities to explore the suitability of alternative sources of migration data – originating from cellular data recorded, social media, search engine queries, and other possible online presences hosting related Big Data – by weighing their limitations and risks to rapidly identify the current situation and make future projections on migration flows;

RESOLUTIONS

- d) recommends the Secretariat to consider the human-trafficking related statistics in the next Sessions; and
- e) urges its Members to exert efforts for significantly increasing the production of comparable data disaggregated by migratory and refugee status and accordingly calls upon the international statistical community to enhance capacity-building support in line with SDG 17.18.

5. Having listened with appreciation to the presentations delivered under the session “Prioritisation and Measurement of SDG Indicators and Their Reconciliation and Ownership at the National Level” by SESRIC, PARIS21, and AFRISTAT shedding light on the SDG priorities of OIC Member Countries, tools to localise and monitor SDGs, and regional initiatives to prioritise and measure SDGs, and by Cameroon, Indonesia, Jordan, Niger, Pakistan, Palestine, and Somalia with country practices on the prioritisation and measurement of SDG indication in their local contexts; and guided by the relevant UN resolutions and documents that highlight the follow-up and review of the implementation of the 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda based on a voluntary and country-led approach taking into account different national realities, capacities and levels of development while respecting policy space and priorities; the OIC-StatCom:

- a) expresses its appreciation to the Secretariat in following up the global statistical agenda on the SDG Indicator and Monitoring Framework as the designated institution at the OIC level and the outstanding preparation of the Report on the Results of the Tendency Survey on SDG Priorities of OIC Member Countries;
- b) reiterates its call to its Members, with partial or without any responses, to send the completed Survey on SDG Priorities of OIC Member Countries in line with the relevant resolutions of the 31st, 32nd, and 33rd Sessions of the COMCEC so as to enable the Secretariat to present a more comprehensive coverage of the SDG priorities at the OIC level as well as identifying the needs and capacities of its
